- LIBRARY: A panel at the top right containing:
  - Campaign Guide
  - D&D Sword Coast Adventurer's Guide - Campaign
  - Tables

  - Feats
  - Races
  - Reference Manual
- REFERENCE: A panel on the right showing the "Fighters Introduction" section, which includes:
  - Quoted text: "Slow to learn, aren't they?" a white-haired old knight who'd lost his helm in the last fray drawled. "This is getting to be like a proper romp in the Dragonjaws, it is! I'll have to get my minstrel to write a ballad about this..."
  - Quoted text: "I hope he sings swiftly," a Purple Dragon armsman growled. "Here they are!"
  - Text: "The howling spilled over the bodies in another rushing tide of flapping leather, slashing swords, and beady goblin eyes. Men planted themselves - no running and leaping now - to hew steadily, like harvesters with scythes and many fields in front of them, in a rhythm of death."
  - Section: -Troy Denning, Death of the Dragon
  - Image: Fighter
  - Text: "Whether doughty warriors, idealistic young soldiers, or hard-bitten mercenaries, fighters are found everywhere in the Forgotten Realms. Even the most peaceful lands have militia for protection against their enemies, and many great rulers in the Realms' past were fighters of some sort. There are always opportunities for those who know how to handle themselves in a fight."
  - Text: "Able-bodied folk in many parts of the Sword Coast and the North learn at least the rudiments of combat as part of a local militia, serving in times of need, while a few go on to become professional soldiers, guards, or the like. Officers tend to come from the nobility, although there are opportunities for capable leaders to demonstrate their skills and rise through the ranks."
  - Text: "Fighters who don't make a career of soldiering find other ways to demonstrate their prowess. Mercenaries find employment with those who need skilled warriors but who lack the time or means to train them. Such employers include adventuring companies, which are almost always in need of a reliable fighter."
  - Text: "Merchants and guilds hire guards to protect caravans, ships, and their warehouses and guildhalls. Such work affords the opportunity for frequent travel and dander."

At the bottom of the window, a horizontal axis is labeled with letters A-1 through A-12.

lancelot classic edition

Perhaps one of my favorite combat aircraft i have installed. It handles very nice but be careful when maneuvering above 300knts.. Not the worse 50 cents I spent, but close. The Mouse sensativity in the game is WAY to high for my computer so I can't controle my aim. Too bad this game is so cheap and poorly written that there is no way to set the key bindings or adjust my mouse sensativity so I could actually play the game to find out if I like it.. This game is fun if simplistic, don't expect realism though. But you really should just get the 3rd one instead.. R.I.P. Telltale Games 2004-2018. I like this game and want to recomend it. Unique mechanics, deeper over world strategy than similar games, and an interesting take on the well beaten horse of alien invasion stories. Like I said I want to recomend this game... but I can't honestly do it. The effort it takes to enjoy this game is much more than the reward merrits. Samish maps, generic characters, poor even for the its age graphics\sound\music and stating it generously, poor stability all combine to make this game as much if not more of a chore than it's enjoyability merrits.. waiting for the next one .nice to go through a story without any stress of getting stuck or killed. I love the game, but players are scarce. Please more players!. This game is fun and adorable. And great with friends. I just hope that you will be able to somehow add in multiplayer. Because not everyone has friends nearby to play this with. I still recomend this game though.. Carenado's Cessna 172N Skyhawk II is a great first-payware plane. When the 172N was being produced, customers were able to customize the 172N's panel however they liked it. Whether basic 6-pack gauges for basic VFR flying, or full blown IFR set with full radio and autopilot. However, Carenado decided to make this a VFR plane. Right off the bat, I will warn you that there is no autopilot, and it has basic navigation instruments and a basic radio. This is basically one of the perfect hands-on VFR airplane. But considering how damn stable the airplane is, with the right amount of trim, she'll fly just fine without control imputs and without autopilot either. I haven't flown IFR yet (IRL and in FSX), so I don't know if this plane is IFR suitable, but it might just be able to perform IFR flight, considering it has nav frequencies and a VOR/OBS instrument.

Pros:

- Beautiful model and textures
- Very stable and forgiving
- Wonderful for VFR flying, especially cross-country
- Some features in the cockpit are movable\clickable such as the windows, sun shades, passenger seat, baggage door, etc.
- Excellent sounds
- Easy to fly
- Goes great with accu-feel
- Wheel pants are added, and you can choose a texture that doesn't have them
- Haven't found any bugs with the plane yet

Cons:

- Basic gauges and radio stack
- No autopilot
- Can't swap radio frequencies
- No heading bug on heading indicator (this drove me insane a first)
- Panel night light is too bright
- Flies almost too stable, and has a flying-on-rails feel to it sometimes (accu-feel can kinda fix this)

- If you put the plane in a intentional spin, it will spin out of control and basically goes crazy if you hold it into a spin too long.

Overall this is a great first-payware plane and I highly recommend it if you are the type that loves VFR hand-flying and cross-country trips. This is also great for basic training.

I give this 172N a 9/10

Very low level guns, do not buy if u played the game a lot. Short and sweet: This table is fun and easy to play.

It plays like what shooting the rapids would probably be if it came out in the year 2000. I like the spinny wheel the most because it feels a little more random. I also like hitting the man in the canoe for easy points.. Dont buy this for "Thor's Hammer", because you can get a scythe with the same stats from a radio mission.

Only reason I recommend this pack is the insane bird. If you play with alot of friends this bird's stats will make you a god amongst men, I'd say get it for the bird.

The helmet looks weird, and will be replaced eventually, especially if you got the "Dead Dynamite" DLC.

Anyways, get the bird. This game looked really cool in the trailer. After buying and playing for about 30 minutes i realized its bugged too much at this point to even play. e.g. I equiped my axe in slot 1, i can swing it but it does nothing. Cant harvest wood to build. Swimming is severely bugged graphics-wise. I will keep checking in on this game because it looks cool.. not working how can i fix it?. This is not the most pretty of games...BUT...the concept and gameplay is so addictive!! It opens that other side of you that wants to either do something else with your own life. It gets you thinking about how you are already living your life and some things that you can do to change your life. (In the game and in real life)

Any one that can not budget or doesnt understand how to spend their money in the real world...this will open your eyes. You can play the game slow and steady with gradual promotions or rush your way to the millions.
